

2019 CSCC Award for Educational Excellence
Sponsored by Beckman Coulter Canada

Post-doctoral Training Program in Clinical Chemistry, Université de Montréal

The CSCC Award for Educational Excellence is awarded to the Post-doctoral training Program in Clinical Chemistry of the University of Montreal.

Many prominent clinical chemists have been involved in the educational and leadership roles and activities for this program: Drs. Bernard Vinet, Jean-Pierre Emond, Karim Benkirane, Edgar Delvin, and Roger Sanfaçon, Wolfgang Schneider, Raymond Lepage, and other clinical chemists involved in clinical placements across the province. The current program director is Dr. Jean-Pierre Émond and co-director is Dr. Karim Benkirane.

This active educational community has run a large program, maintaining accreditation by both the Canadian Academy of Clinical Biochemistry and the Ordre des chimistes du Québec for up to five trainees per year.
